

Artha Beekshan, Volume 20, No. 2 & 3

Publication of Artha Beekshan, the quarterly referred journal of Bangiya Arthaniti Parishad, that is, the Bengal Economic Association, is one of the most important academic activities of the Association. The present volume contains 14 papers, Reports on International Economic Association Conference and BEA Mid-year Seminar and Book Reviews. We are thankful to the authors and our members who have helped in one way or other in the preparation of this volume. We are thankful to the ICSSR, New Delhi and an anonymous agency for their grants to the BEA for publication of Artha Beekshan.

I would like to extend my whole-hearted thanks to the Editor, the Publisher, and all who have helped in the publication process, and especially the President and Secretary for their endeavour to make this issue of Artha Beekshan financially viable and Kolkata Mudran for bringing out the present issue.

Guidelines for Publication in Artha Beekshan

1. All articles and notes submitted for publication must be in English, an abstract should accompany all articles.
2. Articles published (or submitted for publication) elsewhere should not be sent. If the article has been presented in a Conference or Seminar, this should be indicated.
3. Authors should authenticate their writings by signing their full name and furnish their address. Institutions, if any, should be clearly stated. These details should be provided separately and author's identity should not be disclosed either in the text or in the abstract.
4. Matter, intended for footnotes should be indicated consecutively in the text by superscript numbers and it should be entered serially at the end of the manuscript.
5. Bibliographical references should be given in full, in alphabetical order, after the footnotes.
6. Quotations must be carefully checked and citations in the text must read thus (Hicks 1993). References in the bibliography should be in the form: Hicks, J.R. (1939): Value and Capital, followed by name of publisher and place of publication.
7. Tables, both in text or in appendices should be consecutively numbered using numerals on the top and appropriately titled. Sources and explanatory notes (if any) should be given below the table.
8. Mathematical expressions should be presented in a way that will be easily printable. Proofs of mathematical theorems should be furnished in full on a separate sheet, even if condensed in the text.
9. Diagrams should be clearly drawn in black ink on glossy white paper with all axes clearly positioned. The width of a diagram should not normally exceed 6 cm. The legend in respect of the diagram should be stated below the diagram.
10. Authors should supply art pools of their diagrams along with their articles.
11. All materials submitted for publication should be typed in double space and 2 additional copies should be provided for references. Manuscripts will not be returned to the author(s) unless referee suggests revision of the contents. Revised manuscripts must be submitted in the same form as the original.
12. The Editorial Board reserves the right to edit or to reject any material submitted for publication without assigning any reason to the author(s).
